...and the following day he was removed to Silver Springs.

Adolph Goss, a German national, succeeded to Stevens, and he, with Ueckermann, reported during general assemblies, had the accounts of the company examined by experts.

Believing the moment propitious, Kaiser provoked friction between Mr. Norton, a director, and Leroux, President and General manager, on the one hand, and the occupying forces on the other hand, giving the latter information concerning the "volunteers".

Acids from the above activities, Kaiser is said to have been a frequent "radio guest" on German broadcasts and to have written for newspaper "Der Freiheit".

Kidco's present resources are unknown, except for the dividends to receive from Hazel stock which is anticipated at about $0.035 Canadian a year.

In his compendious review he said to be a doubtful connection and weak support to make no or little probability.

The importance of African attention has never been greater than during the political or national controversies.

His name does not appear in the judicial records.

S - Michael H. - us? A FRENCH MENTALIST?

3 - Michel Elias
Michel Elias was born July 27, 1897 in Mazars, Latvia, son of Leon Elias and Anna Smit, of Russian nationality.
(Card no. 145149, file no. 4446); he was married in Berlin
on July 10, 1922 to Elisabeth Friederichs, born September 13, 1902; in 1939 he was a citizen of Germany and Mario Caplinini.

13, 1927 in Washington, D. C., by Dr. G. E. H. Smith, Director of the Bureau of Entomology, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

We are grateful to you for your kind letter. We have been told by our informant that he was at the time of his return to the country. He is the son of a former member of the French Foreign Legion. He has been in touch with us since his return from France and we understand you will be able to get in touch with him. He is now in Paris and we believe lives in the Rue de l'Amiral de Coligny. He was at Ceylon for some time and is "Master M.F." under a friend, Jean Murphy.

RECEIVED MAY 14, 1946, FROM PARIS, FRANCE.

From 1926 to 1936 he resided at 11 bis Rue de Vezelay,
17 Rue de l'Amoignon, 40bis Rue Reynoard, 54 Boulevard
Sébastopol, 16 Avenue Lazard and, from 1935 to 1939, 12 Rue de Grenelle, Paris.

Ollon has had various professions. In 1926 he pretended to be a commission agent and made extensive exchanges of stocks; later he became an associate of the firm Goldwasser, 10 Rue Larrey, Paris (no longer in existence).

Thereafter he was the manager of the Société Civile
Immobilière (real estate transactions), founded February 21, 1930, appearing on the Commerce Register of the Seine under
No. 554,700.

Mme Ollon who shared her husband's business life had a very irregular life; she is said to have had numerous foreign lovers who visited her at her residence.
She made numerous trips to England, Germany and various other foreign countries.

Ollon claimed various trips to England, to Berlin,
where he stayed at Inter-Continental Hotel, and to Switzerland where there was the "stroke out" in 1937, and it was communicated by the Ministry of National Defense that he left in consequence for a foreign country.

Ollon was in close contact with an American agent
but he does not appear to have had any contract with any organization, mentioned below.

Ollon was the subject of an expulsion order dated February 12, 1926, for inciting dissident groups
to benefit from the results of military operations. This order was cancelled March 9, 1926.

Ollon's full record is as follows: Expulsion order dated 12, 1926, cancellation No. 327 - 1 month suspension
in France - (12th) November 1926 for violation monopoly of telegraphic transmission.

4. Eddie RAY (or RAY)

As regards Eddie Ray, we find him to be a white male of average height about 5 feet 7 inches, with brown hair and blue eyes. He is married, has three children, lives at 10 Avenue de la République, in a private house which he owns. He formerly resided at 10 Avenue de la Bourdonnais.

He claims to be a master electrician and is said to have had extensive dealings with the Germans.

During the occupation he owned a garage, used four automobiles.
He bought last year the house in which he lives for
Fr. 4,500,000, and is said to have had Fr. 6,000,000 worth of receiptsando.
